

From its inception, Olin College of Engineering has sought a team of administrators and support staff who understand our unique mission: to lead the revolution in engineering education. The Olin culture is one of creativity, collaboration, drive and playfulness. Please see below for a list of open jobs for staff members at Olin.

We look for hard-working team players who:

- Can handle a number of tasks simultaneously
- Are flexible and adaptable
- Can see the big picture and reprioritize their work accordingly
- Can work unsupervised and take initiative
- Look for ways to assist others
